powered by Agentforce

TargetRecruit's AI Agents open up new possibilities for the staffing and recruiting industry, empowering firms to embrace new technology, enhance the candidate experience, and scale rapidly.

Smart Shortlisting

AI Agents can instantly process applicants, reviewing their submissions and profiles based on your chosen criteria, returning the best matched candidates in a ranked list. By interacting with AI Agents using large language models, additional shortlisting can take place.

Tip -

Try asking "Which candidates show a history of career progression and professional growth?"

Auto Interview Scheduling

With approval from the recruiter, the AI Agents can automatically email available time slots to candidates who fit the role based on the recruiter's calendar.

Rejections and Recommendations

For those candidates who may be rejected in the process, AI Agents can email them with specific details on why and provide a hyperlinked list of other possible job matches.

Candidate Portals

AI Agents will interactively assist applicants in finding the right job in an impressively human-like fashion, enhancing the candidate experience.
